A Unique Invention.

The last application of the penny-in-the-slot principle is characterized by common sense, ingenuity and utility.

Hitherto the public has fed the automatic machine with coins in return for value.

In the latest plan the process has been reversed. The public will receive pennies instead of giving them. The idea is this.

To the person who turns a crank 100 times the machine yields up one penny. The crank is connected inside with a dynamo, and the 100 revolutions of the handle manufacture and store a quantity of electrical energy, which is to be eventually retailed by the owners of the machine for the purpose of producing illumination.

The plan appears to be feasible enough, and it would certainly in districts where unemployed labor abounded be productive of considerable good. No man need go in want of a meal who can apply himself to the electrical automatic machine. And the invention might be capable of wide application.

Why should not every household be provided with one? Every member of the family might in the name of exercise give the handle so many hundred turns a day sufficient, if that were possible, to provide electricity enough for the purposes of lighting.

The turning of the crank might supersede dumbbell practice in the mornings, and during the summer months it might be possible to store enough electrical energy to tide over the winter. From the point of view of the man in the street it would be interesting to know what income he could make in a week by a reasonable expenditure of effort. Even if only 100 revolutions could be performed in five minutes, the operator would be working at the rate of a shilling an hour, a scale of remuneration much in excess of that paid in some industries involving quite as much physical exertion.—Electricity.

The Intricacies of Wall Street.

Just after Jay Gould's death, a wealthy Wall street broker made a proposition to a young man who was not wealthy but who had been able to do the broker a favor, which the latter appreciated.

The proposition was couched in language something like this: "Dick, you have rendered me a valuable service, and I want to do something for you. I will tell you what I will do. I will carry 100 shares of Manhattan stock for you for a month, or I will buy you the best suit of clothes that you can pick out. Which will you take?"

The young man considered the proposition for a few minutes and replied: "I believe that Manhattan railway stock will eventually go up, but if I should be the holder of 100 shares it would be a pain to go down. Still, in my luck I will probably. I will take the suit of clothes."

On Friday this young man figured up how much he had lost by making the choice that he did. When Mr. Gould died, Manhattan was selling at 152. On Friday it sold at a fraction above 174. Had the young man chosen the 100 shares and sold them Friday he would have been about $4,200 richer.—New York Times.

Manufacturing Petrified Corpses.

A factory for the manufacture of petrified human corpses has, it is alleged, been discovered in Fresno, Cal. At least four petrified people are said to have been manufactured and shipped to museums from this place. It may be remembered that a petrified man created considerable talk in Utah last fall, and that reports of the curiosity were printed in eastern papers. The thing was seen by natural history experts and pronounced a fraud, but it netted considerable money for the "mummies" who discovered it. The objects were very carefully made, the bones of the legs and arms being hollowed out, and in one case one arm and a foot was broken off to show the internal structure. The fake factory, it is said, stole a genuine mummified man—a dried body found on the plains—from the health officer at Fresno, fixed it up a little and shipped it to a museum in the east.—New York Sun.

An Incident in the House.

The house met in continuation of yesterday's session. When the speaker's gavel fell to call the body to order a number of members who were ignorant of the fact that the house had merely been in recess reverently rose to listen to the chaplain's prayer, and then sat down amid the laughter of their better informed colleagues.—Washington Letter.

By Russell.—Resolution that the speaker hereafter be limited to ten minutes in debate on any subject, and that if it is necessary to hold longer than forty days the members shall serve without expense to the State.

and that it would be impossible to enforce the attendance of members without pay. Allen claimed that it was possible to get through in forty days, although possibly considerable local legislation would be left on the floor. Harris favored the resolution as also did Russell. Resolution lost.

LEGISLATIVE CAUCUS.

The two houses of the Legislature went into caucus this afternoon in the Assembly chamber on the question of repealing the law limiting the session of the Legislature to 40 days. Mr. Massey elected chairman, Mr. Wheeler secretary. The following resolution was introduced by Mr. Norcross:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this caucus that the Legislature adjourn if possible on the fortieth day of the session, but in the event that important legislation still remains at that time on the floor, the Legislature shall remain in session until such bills are disposed of, when it shall adjourn sine die."

Resolved further, That the Act limiting the session of the Legislature to 40 days be immediately repealed.

Moved by Mr. Foley to amend it by the words "if found necessary to extend the session beyond 40 days, the members to serve without pay."

Adjourned.

Commissioners' Proceedings.

The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday for the purpose of transacting Reno Township business; present, Chairman Alt, Commissioner McLaughlin, O. Evans, County Clerk, and B. F. Corlier, District Attorney; Commissioner Crosby being absent.

On motion of W. P. McLaughlin it was ordered that B. F. Corlier be notified to connect his clock, bells, etc., with the town sewer.

The sum of $250 was ordered transferred from the Incorporation Fund and placed to the credit of the Park Fund, for the benefit and improvement of the public parks of Reno.

Upon petition of O. J. Brookins for the building of a sidewalk on Commercial Row between the Palace Hotel and the former's place of business, it is ordered that the Constable of Reno notify the owners of the property, in front of which the proposed walk is to be laid. Said sidewalk is to be constructed of two-inch plank and twelve feet wide, and laid on 4 x 6 stringers, laid thirty inches from center to center, and placed on the grade established by law.

It was ordered that the owners of property on Center street, on the west side north of Third street, be not to build sidewalks in front of their premises.

It was ordered that notice be served upon W. J. Luke that he is keeping hogs within the town limits contrary to an ordinance prohibiting the same and requesting him to remove them.

H. P. Brown was employed to take charge of the sewers within the town, at a salary of $35 per month.

Petitions were presented for the erection of electric lights on the corner of Walnut and Nevada streets; one on the corner of Fifth and West streets; and one on the corner of Second and Chestnut streets.

It was ordered that action on the petitions be deferred until such time as the Light Company furnishes better service.

There being no further business the Board adjourned to March 6, 1893.

SCAR IN SHEEP.

Why the Bill to Control It Should Become a Law.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—There is a bill now before the Legislature which has not, it seems to me, received that attention which its merit deserves. I refer to the measure having for its object the stamping out of that scourge,

SCAR IN SHEEP.

The Act concerns the public at large as well as those engaged in the sheep business, although of course the latter are interested to the greatest extent. That such a law has not been placed on the Statute book long ago is now a matter which is almost inexplicable to me and argues great shortsightedness on the part of the sheep men of this State. The losses they have sustained by the havoc wrought in their wool crops in the last twenty years would aggregate such a prodigious sum as would stagger any one not familiar with the facts and would simply not be believed. Moreover the presence of scar in a band of sheep, especially when it has gained a strong hold upon them, by rendering the animals such horrid and unclean looking objects and their flesh unwholesome food, has created so great a prejudice against mutton in the minds of many individuals that they would rather starve than partake of it. For these reasons the quantity of mutton consumed here is not in anything like proportion to what is used in places where sheep are by law kept strictly clean. In addition to which considerations I would urge the fact of the extreme misery endured by the poor dumb brutes themselves when suffering from this parasite as being of itself amply sufficient to justify the passage of the bill above mentioned. And it may not be out of place further here to remark that some of those sheep men who have been foremost in clamoring for the passage of the bounty Act with a view to destruction of animals inimical to the sheep that they have unsuspectingly by their carelessness and neglect in failing to adopt vigorous measures to stamp out the scar in the flocks been themselves the most formidable enemy of their very useful and profitable animals when treated with proper care and attention.

NOT A HOPELESS TASK.

Many wool growers have hitherto stonily resisted the adoption of a scar law, fearing that they would be unable to comply with its requirements, but the fact of the matter is that the eradication of scar is not such a hopeless task as a great many of them think it is, and if only a really thorough-going measure is passed by the Legislature they will be convinced of the worth of this statement ere many years pass over their heads.

THE TROUBLE HERETOFORE.

Heretofore the great difficulty experienced by those who have endeavored to keep their sheep clean has been due to the fact that scar is a most contagious disease, and that they would no sooner succeed at considerable trouble and expense in getting the plague banished from their flocks and ranges than there would be brought bands of scabby sheep to range in their neighborhood spreading the germs of the disease everywhere they went, on brush and bank and rock, thus again getting their clean flocks contaminated and all the good work they had accomplished completely undone. If, however, everybody's sheep and corals and ranges were once perfectly clean, and stringent measures taken to prevent infected bands from entering the State we would bear very little more of the ravages of scar, and the vendors of the numerous dips for its prevention and cure would find their occupation gone.

THE DISEASE CAN BE STAMPED OUT.

I, who have had some considerable experience in the sheep business, extending to a period not a day short of forty years, can vouch for the fact that in one place where over half a million sheep were ranged there had not been a single case of scar seen or known, nor a sheep dipped or spotted, in a period of ten years, and if a stringent scar law, similar to what was in operation in the place referred to, were passed and enforced here, I do not see any reason why we should not enjoy the same immunity from that all too prevalent evil. Accordingly I do hope that intelligence and good sense will prevail in the Nevada Legislature and pass the bill.

A Sailor's Brave Deed.

On the evening of Sept. 9 the sailing cutter of the Swallow, while cruising off the south end of the Zanzibar islands, anchored off Uzi Island, when half the men landed, leaving Mr. McDermott, John Sadler, H. Payne, Charles Lawford and W. Rundie, seamen, in the boat. Lawford and Payne jumped overboard and were bathing, when a large shark was seen making toward Lawford. The shark was only four or five feet off when, without any hesitation and with out waiting to divest himself of any of his clothes, McDermott plunged into the sea "right on top of the shark," and with the splash he made frightened it away for a short time, while the men were quickly drawn into the boat.

McDermott suffered nothing from his immersion, but if it had not been for his prompt action Lawford must have lost his life. This extraordinary act of heroism, the particulars of which have just been forwarded to the Royal Humane Society by the lords commissioners of the admiralty, has been investigated by the committee of the former body, which has unanimously conferred its silver medal upon Thomas McDermott, who is the chief boatswain of her majesty's ship Swallow, for saving Lawford. The story has of course been confirmed by several witnesses in all particulars. The ship was on a cruise to the East Indies, and McDermott is a seaman of the first rank. He is a native of the Zanzibar division—Fall Mail Budget.

Stanford University's Horn.

Next month when the Palo Alto play off their tie with the Berkeley students in a match game of football there will be trouble in store for the quiet citizens of this burg.

They will be awakened by noises more unearthly and more uncanny than any they ever heard before.

A local firm has a contract on hand to construct a monster horn, not an ordinary horn blown by mortal beings and making the midnight hours hideous, but a horn worked by a steam blower, made of galvanized iron, 50 feet long and 10 feet in diameter.

The Stanford boys are going to have this monster horn, and they are now preparing a petition to the governor to have the militia detailed to protect it from the wiles and machinations of the Berkeleyites.

The coming noisemaker will have two valves, a horsepower boiler and will cost $700 when built.

There are 300 enthusiastic students pledged to devote $2.50 each toward the building fund required to construct this giant horn, and when it is completed it will be hauled on one of the big trucks which transport large coils of cable for street railways to the playing park—San Francisco Call.

The Laborer is Worthy of His Hire.

The action of the Jewelers' league of this city in adopting under protest a motion made by its secretary to reduce his salary is likely to attract considerable attention in commercial circles. It was a peculiar situation. The secretary, who is well to do, wanted to turn over to the organization several hundred dollars of his pay, as he didn't need it. There was an instant protest from a generous member, who said that it would be setting up a bad precedent to consent to the secretary's proposition. The member believed that the work done by the secretary was worth all he got, and the suggestion that his successor in office might not be so well able to do without the full amount of the salary, which is drawn from the membership fees.

There was sound sense in this protest. It is grounded on the fair and manly notion that the good laborer in any field of work is well worthy his hire. Experience proves that he gets best service who pays his servant liberally. The Jewelers' league believes in this policy.—New York Sun.

Revival of English in the Colleges.

From the new Yale catalogue it appears that the authorities there have awakened to the need of greater attention to the study of English. Beginning with 1894 the entrance examinations are to include papers upon certain pieces of English literature, selected as well for their probable attractiveness to the preparatory student as for their intrinsic importance. "The questions are to be constructed with the special view of testing the candidate's familiarity with the subject matter, but weight is to be given to the literary forms of the papers offered by the applicants. Already instruction in English has been extended to the freshman class. This is a field that has been too long neglected, and those who have had anything to do with the English of students know with what results.—Boston Journal.

Standing Dead in a Hollow Tree.

Joseph Weir of the Delaware Bend district was missed from his home several months ago. Weir was married, and the supposition was that he had gone to Denver to join a brother. Thursday evening, while Frank Sneed was hunting for cattle in Red river bottom, he discovered the remains of Weir standing in an upright position in a hollow tree. His gun was standing at his side.—Texas Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Turkish Girl For Sale in Indiana.

A gang of Turks, 23 in number, are camping in the center of a large woods near Kempton. Their outfit consists of several horses, dogs, one monkey and five bears. They chiefly live by begging from the neighbors. Among them is a girl, 17 years old, whom they are offering to sell. The price asked is $250.—Cor. Indianapolis Journal.

The fad of wearing velvet cuffs to match the collar on the overcoat was but a short-lived craze. The townsmen of this winter are entirely devoid of admiration of any kind.

"German Syrup"

Here is an incident from the South—Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Grippe had visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and work late. At the beginning of last Winter I was on a trip to the City of Vicksburg, Miss., where I got well drenched in a shower of rain. I went home and was soon after seized with a dry, hacking cough. This grew worse every day, until I had to seek relief. I consulted Dr. Dixon who has since died, and he told me to get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Meantime my cough grew worse and worse and then the Grippe came along and I caught that also very severely. My condition then compelled me to do something. I got two bottles of German Syrup. I began using them, and before taking much of the second bottle I was entirely clear of the Cough that had lung to me so long, the Grippe, and all its bad effects. I felt top-top and have felt that way ever since." PETER J. BRIALS, Jr., Cayuga, Hines Co., Miss.
